DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-4, 15, 16, 25-28, 31-40, 43-46, 57 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Karam (United States Patent 6,804,351).

Regarding claim 1, Karam discloses a method and apparatus for detecting a compatible phantom powered device using common mode signaling. In addition, Karam discloses an electronic circuit for receiving a differential mode signal on a first pair of conductors and transmitting a signal on a second pair of conductors, the circuit comprising: a first steering circuit responsive to the differential mode signal on the first pair of conductors for generating a first electrical signal on one of the second pair of conductors; and a second steering circuit responsive to the differential mode signal on the first pair of conductors for generating a second electrical signal on the other of the second pair of conductors, the first and second electrical signal together constituting a loop back of the differential mode signal, as disclosed at column 4, line 18 through column 8, line 22 and exhibited in figures 3-8.

Regarding claim 2, Karam discloses a first steering circuit responsive to the differential mode signal on the first pair of conductors for generating a signal on one of the second pair of conductors; a second steering circuit responsive to the differential mode signal on the first pair of conductors for generating a signal on the other of the second pair of conductors; and circuitry responsive to application of a DC voltage level disabling the first steering circuit, as disclosed at column 4, line 18 through column 8, line 22 and exhibited in figures 3-8.

Regarding claims 3, 4, 15, 16, 25-28, 31-40, 43-46, 57 and 58 are interpreted and rejected for the reason set forth above.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 5-14, 47-56 are allowed.
3. Claims 17-24, 29, 30, 41, 42, and 59-66 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
